Kitchens and baths are two of the most important spaces in the home, which is why getting their design, execution and function just right is so important. Enter W.L. Construction. Since 1979, their award-winning team has collaborated with homeowners, architects, designers and craftspeople to create environments that elevate people's lives. "We began as a small construction company that has grown into a group of bonded experts who build dream spaces," says Lars Campos, the firm's president. "My wife, Cressa, and I loved the company's values and integrity so much that we bought it in 2000." Accomplished at custom new-builds, W.L. Construction also has a special talent for renovations. "Remodeling is our bread and butter," Cressa shares. "And our team is particularly adept at delivering kitchens and baths that bring joy, comfort and inspiration to our clients and their families for years to come."

Top Engineered hardwood flooring adds beauty and durability, while custom-stained oak cabinets bring function and a true 'wow' factor to this elegant open kitchen. Right One-of-a-kind white honed marble countertops and sink, a walk-in shower with gorgeous, glazed tile and custom-stained oak cabinets make a sophisticated statement in this custom new-build in Corvallis, Oregon.

"Strong relationships are key to a successful contracting business and offer homeowners the greatest value and peace of mind."

BUILDING A LEGACY

What is essential for creating dream kitchens and baths? Cressa and Lars Campos explain ...

- Share your primary rule for kitchen and bath design. Collaboration is key. That is the surest way to deliver spaces that exceed our clients' wants, needs and visions.
- What color palettes are trending right now? We are seeing a lot of earthy, clay tones with dark accents. And, of course, white is always right.
- When it comes to mixing and matching, how do you get the balance right? By keeping in mind that a little goes a long way.
- Name the one feature clients should include in the bathroom. No one has ever regretted installing heated floors.
- And in the kitchen? A large island because it is a natural gathering space for family and friends.
- Name three must-have materials for kitchens and baths. Shiplap for its flair, plaster for its chic, old-world charm and tile for its variety and versatility.
- What design element do clients want most? Homeowners love open spaces with great flow, so we end up taking out a lot of walls. This makes both entertaining and personal spaces feel more expansive, inviting and luxurious.
